The Tientsin Municipal Government has set up a special real estate company under the direct control of the Tientsin Municipal Properties Administration which takes charge of all real estate transactions. This was done so the government might establish firmer control over real estate within the Tientsin districts and because many houses had been confiscated in the Three-Antis campaign. Previously the management of public buildings and control over real estate owned by private individuals has been the responsibility of the real estate division in each Tientsin district administrative office.
